My dear Mr. Gray

I am writing for the Prince Society, Thomas Mortimer's New English Calendar, a book written in 1634, and describing New England before the settlement.
In it I find a very short chapter on herbs of the country.

The subject is one that I know absolutely nothing about. I enclose you a galley-proof of the chapter. May I ask you, in cause of good editing, to write a few brief notes, giving the scientific and present popular names of the various herbs mentioned? -

By so doing you will greatly oblige

Yours very sincerely
